Intelligence

Governments, nations, heads of states, security services, institutions, organizations are all governed by "information" which directly controls our micro and macro decision making process.

This everlasting information can be obtained from different sources which is then translated into intelligence. Intelligence is information which is useful to our organization. Relevant information is often obtained by sources through different methods. Therefore intelligence is the most crucial tool in understanding the enemy and neutralizing its threats.

Condor offers a course in intelligence which is officially recognized by the Israeli Ministry of Defense. This course is designed for heads of security departments and security managers of large institutions.

Condor has all the necessary facilities in order to instruct courses in Israel. These facilities include vast equipment, firing ranges, training camps, weapons, combat equipment, conference rooms, simulation centers, accommodation and all the logistical infrastructure required.

Condor provides consulting and training services at a client's requested destination.

These subjects are listed in a generalized version and are not in a chronological order. The list does not include sub topics. The main topics of the course include:
