Self Defense Against Weapons

Weapons were and will always be the primary means of attack directed against individuals that require to have the necessary operational skills for neutralizing such attacks. Weapons are lethal and leave no option but to disarm the respective assailant and minimize the potential damage that may be inflicted.

This "Culture of Weapons" is vast and constantly developing its effect on the safety of individuals throughout the world. Only effective training combined with mental determination can offer realistic and practical solutions which may be threatening your life.

Condor offers a course in self defense against weapons which is officially recognized by the Israeli Ministry of Defense.

Condor has all the necessary facilities to instruct courses in Israel. These facilities include vast equipment, firing ranges, training camps, weapons, combat equipment, conference rooms, simulation centers, accommodation and all the logistical infrastructure required.
